

The Mint of the United States,

AT

PHILADELPHIA, PENN.,

Assay Department, March 19, 1883

Sir: I will thank you to inform the director of a serious error in the "Proceedings of the Assay Commission of 1883" - just published.

On page 13 the Philadelphia Mass (Silver) is reported as 902.0, instead of 900.2. It is incredible to me how such an error as this could have passed unnoticed; and as it touches the credit of my department as well as the Nation at large, I am anxious to have it righted before it is circulated in our own and foreign countries.

Respectfully,
YoursJacob B. Eckfeldt
